Welcome to RICS. Your student membership status is now confirmed and your student membership number is 6203082. This membership number is unique to you, always quote it when corresponding with RICS.

Please keep this email as reference; student members do not receive a membership card.

RICS student membership offers you a great opportunity to realise your true potential and achieve work of the highest standards during your time at sixth form, college or university.

Benefits of student membership:

Study help

RICS provides a dedicated range of knowledge and information services to help you with your course work. Student members can access online information from the largest surveying and property related library in the world and get free access to information on the member zone of the RICS website that isn't available in the public domain.

Finding a surveying job

RICS Recruit is the dedicated jobsite that offers hundreds of UK and international graduate vacancies, CV tips, interview preparation help, the latest salary data and information on working abroad.

Careers advice

RICS offers valuable advice to students on careers in surveying with essential info on the different surveying specialisms, everything students need to know about becoming professionally qualified and exciting case studies highlighting the variety and rewards offered by a surveying career. Visit the careers zone at www.rics.org/careers to find out more.
